

KILLED BY CAR IN COLLISION

North Avenue Street Car Began
Late Heavy Circus Wagon
Which Falls on Horse.

One of the Sells-Floto circus wagons was killed at about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday night on Fourth avenue and Twelfth street, when a Fourth avenue street car crashed into one of the heavy wagons drawn by six horses.

The driver of the horses was not hurt, although the wagon was topped over and thrown for about fifteen feet. None of the passengers on the street car was hurt nor was the car much damaged.

The circus wagons were being hauled to the train for loading, coming over Twelfth street direct to the railroad tracks.

A large wagon loaded with trunks was being driven north over the street car tracks at the Twelfth street intersection when a Fourth avenue street car headed east struck it near the front wheel with terrific force.

Wagon Falls on Horse.
The wagon toppled over and fell on the outside pole horse. The animal's ribs were crushed and it died shortly after the accident. The other five horses escaped injury.

Lights Were Out.
Martin A. Marcussen, claim agent for the Tri-City Railway company, said today that Motorman A. Shawgo and Conductor S. W. James on the street car gave as reason for the accident that the street light on the corner was out.

The driver of the circus wagon told the police that he had the forward team over the tracks when he saw the street car a block away and that the street car was upon him before he could get the wagon over the tracks.

That's the way some people practice economy. Many persons send their money out of town to some mail order house—they have to buy merchandise unseen and take chances on its being satisfactory.

It's far better economy to see the goods before you spend your money. Tell us your hardware wants—we can meet all competition.

PREDICT FOUR DOLLAR WHEAT

Car Shortage Indicates Unprecedented Slowness in Getting Crop to Market.

BY EDWARD D. RIDER.
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.

Kansas City, July 15.—The car shortage threatens not only to bring a coal famine but to delay moving of crops and food with serious consequences in many cities.

The car shortage today is the worst veteran railroaders have seen. Four-dollar wheat is predicted.

With the Kansas wheat crop alone now estimated at 135,000,000 bushels and with 20 per cent of last year's crop still on hand, the railroads entering Kansas face the task of moving 115,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Fifty thousand cars would start the wheat east. But the 50,000 cars are not on hand—or even on the way.

"I don't believe 50 per cent of this wheat will be moved before the first of the year," said the traffic chief of one of the big roads entering Kansas.

One year ago at this time his road alone had 20,000 cars stored in this section to get out wheat. Today he says it hasn't a car! Most of the other roads are in the same fix.

"Why, they are boarding up car-the cars and shipping wheat in them!" said the official. "They're shipping wheat from Kansas every day in coal cars! Best cattle cars and coal cars—and a few box cars—won't be able to get enough wheat to the country. It's critical."

The Kansas-Missouri joint grain commission has returned from Washington with a gloomy report—no promise of more cars from the interstate commerce commission.

"The transportation problem is a ghastly thing," said J. C. Moore, secretary of the Kansas state board of agriculture, on his return from Washington with the commission. "Eastern cities now are just a day ahead of a coal famine."

The Best Thresher for Your Fordson

Now you can free yourself of your heaviest burden—the most expensive, most wasteful part of your farm work—waiting to thresh. A Wood Bros. INDIVIDUAL Separator, all steel—20x36—is exactly the right size and the best separator by test for use with your Fordson.

It is the same separator, built down in size and price only, that Wood Bros. have developed out of their 34 years experience as practical threshermen and thresher builders. Wood Bros. Threshers are favorably known wherever small grain is grown.

WOOD BROS. INDIVIDUAL THRESHER

WOOD BROS., MFGS., DES MOINES

120 farmers bought and successfully used Wood Bros. Individuals with their Fordson Tractors last season.

One Fordson owner wrote Wood Bros.:—"The speediest, cleanest, smoothest running separator I ever saw."

Grain in the shock isn't grain in the bin. When it lies out in the field bleaching, sprouting, wasting in the rain and hot sun, while you wait for the threshing crew, you've paid the price of an INDIVIDUAL whether you own one or not.

Don't let this threshing season catch you unprepared. A Wood Bros. INDIVIDUAL, built the right size to use with your Fordson, will save your grain and your threshing bills.
